THE BEACH ROAD.

A correspondent asks, why does not the Government finish the marine drive, and open it to Waikiki. On inquiry we cannot find that there is any sufficient reason for not doing it. The drive has been partially constructed, and there is an appropriation for completing it. There is some dispute about the value of certain land, needed for the road, and which, if not acquired by negotiation, can be taken by legal proceedings. It goes without saying, that the drive will be a new and pleasant feature of city life, and make the place more attractive to tourists. If the Government has not the money to do this work, that ends the matter until it has. But we learn that it has. Does the Government need prodding? "Conductor," said the meek old gentlemen, "will you kindly ask the driver to hurry up the 'bus so I can catch the train?" "That won't do it," said the driver. "You just swear at him awful, that'll touch his feelings." So, just now, we respectfully ask Capt. King to move in the matter. If he don't, then Mr. Bush may be induced to work some of his "expressive English" on him.

There should be, in addition to the drive, a marine plaza of about five acres or more, connected with the road, and extending into the water, as near the harbor and city as it is possible to do it. It should be within easy walking distance of the town. On this spot trees should be planted. From it there would be an excellent view of the mountains behind the city, of the Waianae mountains and Diamond Head, with the harbor and shipping on one side and the ocean in front. Here the band would play, and it become, if large enough, a resort for everybody. It must not be forgotten that the sea views, for the people generally, are being rapidly cut off by the settlement along the beach. Kapiolani Park is now almost back country, so far as views are concerned.

The opportunity now exists for acquiring and preparing a marine park, which should be a most important feature in city life.

ACCUMULATED RICHES.

The question of the peril to the community from the accumulation of great fortunes, arose at a dinner, at which Col. Robert Ingersoll, the agnostic, was present. The guardian of a small boy, seven years old, had reported to the court that the child's income was about $25,000 a year, and only $3000 was needed for his care. What shall be done, in such cases, which are becoming more numerous every year? was asked. "Rum and vice," said Ingersoll, "will destroy fortunes as fast as they can be built up. Look at the facts." It was said that of one hundred rich families, in a great city, ninety per cent. of them had, in two generations, been reduced to poverty, and that rum and vice had done it. Those who made the fortunes were industrious and temperate men. Those who inherited them had no need of industry, and intemperance became first their recreation, then their need, and finally their pitfall, and vice was its handmaid. Some one inquired "if there is no rum or vice, will the great fortunes be preserved?" Ingersoll replied, "No; the law of love, of humanity, will then scatter them, because the law of love makes communists, and the man who has got it, can't keep his money to himself, any better than the man who is full of whiskey."

While some of the alarmists feel dreadfully bad about the rich growing richer, and the poor growing poorer, and are very suspicious about the way Providence rules the world, and lets things "go wrong," as they irreverently say, there is still a wonderful and irresistible movement toward a finer harmony, and rum and vice are merely temporary agencies in supporting the movement, until the "law of love" ceases to be a dead letter, and operates as vigorously as the "law of revolution" has worked in Hawaii.

Nothing shows better the wild spirit of gambling so well, as the existence in Pittsburgh, Pa., of a "discretionary pool," in which some thirty thousand persons have invested small amounts to the extent of $3,000,000. This enormous sum is left wholly to the discretion of the agent, who is always discreet enough to provide for himself. He does as he likes, and no single investor has enough in his pool, to prosecute him, even if he knows that he has been defrauded. The manager knows this. The saddest part of it, is that poor people, widows, farmers, teachers, clerks, clergymen invest, and lose. They will not "gamble," but they see no harm in "operating in stocks." The temptation to make a little money for Christmas is overpowering. The "bucket shop," which is a concern for buying small quantities of stocks, with a capital of $5 or $10, are found everywhere, even in the quiet villages, and indicate the ravenous desire of all classes to make something out of nothing. The concerns themselves burst up, as a rule, because the managers speculate too. One of the most remarkable experts, in these operations, was the daughter of a missionary in these islands. She was never involved in any frauds, but her vast knowledge of stocks made her very useful as an assistant.

If the United States government should place no obstacles in the way of the cable scheme from Vancouver to the Colonies via Honolulu, Hawaii nei will, within the next two years take on a new lease of life. Instead of a couple of third-rate steamers on the Canadian line, there will be five of the first-class. Emigrants will learn more about our country and the lands will be settled by the small farmer. Houchins' Water Filters at a dollar apiece will be in demand by thousands instead of hundreds as it is today. The islands will be joined by a local cable line and the country in general will be in the swim instead of the soup. The advent of a cable will bring to our shores men with progressive ideas, men who by their acts will better themselves, at the same time improve the condition of the country. Hawaii is all right; it has the finest climate in the world and the people would wax rich on it if climate was a commercial commodity—the trouble is with the people. Compared with the United States, we are living in the era, of pantalettes instead of bloomers. We want new blood, something that will make us shake off the lethargy that the people have lived in since the time of whaleships. Give us a cable and we will have new blood. The newspapers, instead of publishing boiler plate will give the news of the world for breakfast. You will learn, probably, that the metallic refrigerator we are selling is the greatest ice saver of the age and that it is economy, money in your purse to buy one. We put thirty pounds of ice in one of the boxes on Friday evening and it was not all melted until Monday afternoon, keeping the lower portion of the box at a temperature of 58° all the time. If you can get a wooden refrigerator or ice box that will do better than that you ought to buy one. We've never seen them.

Incidentally we have mentioned Houchins' Tap Water Filter; now we will tell you what it is. An arrangement that fits on to the faucet and filters the muddy water as clear as crystal. Talk about microbes; they're not to be found in filtered water, and where can you find anything to equal the Houchin filter for a dollar. We have them for the regular 3/4 hose pipe, the size generally used here and we expect a big demand for them.

The very unique Electric table bells so much used in the United States have a place with us. You can have one for two and a half.

Rain gauges that will tell you to a drop how much rain falls in your locality during the night or all day for that matter, reached us by the Monowai, together with a complete assortment of pocket knives from Wostenholms factory.

The celebrated "Fred Archer" racing glass, used almost exclusively at the Derby by London's swaggers set may be obtained from us.

ANGIER'S PETROLEUM EMULSION.

A preparation of purified petroleum combined with the hypophosphites. Cures consumption if taken in time.—Not unpleasant to take.—Testimonial of Mr. Walton.

Ancient Use of Petroleum.

As a remedial agent petroleum was known to the ancients by whom it was considered a sovereign remedy.

Literature on the Subject.

It is only within recent years that the properties of petroleum have been discussed through the medical journals. Articles have appeared and given, in very positive language, the most gratifying results from its use, both as medicine and as a reconstructive. Great value is attributed to petroleum in the treatment of consumption, bronchitis, la grippe, catarrh, asthma, diseases of the digestive apparatus and of the kidneys, as well as in wasting diseases. It appears to have especial value in all pulmonary complaints.

Former Drawbacks to Its Use.

The reason why petroleum has not been more general in use is due to the fact that, in its unpurified state, it has nauseating and irritating properties. After exhaustive experiments Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was secured. It is deprived of all objectionable features while retaining the valuable medicinal qualities, and is acceptable to both palate and stomach.

Petroleum Emulsion vs. Cod Liver Oil.

All who have ever tried Cod Liver Oil know what a nauseating dose it is. It is impossible to disguise the disagreeable taste and odor of the Oil. The palate and stomach revolt against it.

Every Mother Loves

To see her children strong and healthy. If the little ones are troubled with coughs, croup, or age thin and puny, or have any wasting disease, they can be brought back to health by Angier's Emulsion. Children will take it readily who resist taking Cod Liver Oil.

It Saved My Life.

"Six months ago, I was told by three physicians that I had quick consumption. I was coughing badly, had hemorrhages and profuse night sweats. I was rapidly wasting away. I tried Cod Liver Oil, but could not retain it. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was then prescribed. It agreed with me perfectly. I then weighed 102 pounds. Now after taking it 6 months I weigh 161 pounds. I consider myself cured and attribute it all to Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. B. H. WALTON, Bedford, Mass."

Tell Your Sick Friends.

It is worth your while to give Angier's Petroleum Emulsion a trial. Have you any friends with colds or consumption? Tell them about it.
